

Are you interested in growing fruit for your personal use or for sale?

If so, this workshop is for you! Our morning session will cover which small fruit crops thrive in coastal North Carolina as well as the details you need to know to grow them successfully. After lunch, we will move outside for a pruning demonstration, so dress accordingly. Featured crops will be strawberries, blueberries, muscadine grapes and blackberries.

Speakers

Dr. Bill Cline is an Extension Specialist who has extensive experience in the production and disease management of blueberries, muscadines and strawberries.

Dr. Mark Hoffman is the Small Fruit Extension Specialist and Assistant Professor at NC State University, where he covers strawberry and grape production.
